Magic: The Gathering Summer Special

Magic The Gathering is still the most popular Trading Card Game, though a lack of Starter Decks has made it difficult for new players to enter the hobby, and for existing players to get hold of more land cards.

So we are offering the following special of three Magic products. The first is the Magic Gift Boxed Set, 4th Ed. The second is 10 Packs of Fallen Empires cards, produced by Wizards of the Coast, each booster pack containing 8 Black Border Limited Ed cards, and thirdly, the new Magic 1996 Calendar.

The price you pay for all three items is only $60.00. Normal retail is $97.00.

We are also selling all three items separately, as listed below:

Magic Gift Box 4th Ed Special $30.00

This deluxe gift box makes it even easier for new players to get involved in the struggle for Dominia. It has two starter decks of 60 cards each, 30 glass lifepoint stones of two colors to record your damage during games, a flannel bag to hold the stones, and an illustrated rulebook with 64 pages, in two colors. And with its larger type, detailed examples, and helpful illustrations, the rules are easier to understand.

10 Packs of Fallen Empires Cards Special $16.70

Jedko Games Wargames Special

Jedko Games has produced a number of excellent entry level wargames, which are as much fun for beginners as experts. For a crazy $40.00, we are offering four of the best Jedko Wargames. The four titles are: Victory at Sea, Russian Campaign, Field Marshall and Europe at War.

All four titles are also available individually, as

A fun and fast moving strategic game that recreates in a simple manner the naval war between the Axis and Allied fleets. Players are awarding points each turn for controlling each of the seven sea areas. Ships are included for Germany, Italy, Britain,

Russian Campaign Special $12.00

Probably still my favourite historical wargame, as it gives a great, balanced game each time I play - without there being too many counters. Germany and Russia go head to head in this game in a war that swings back and forth, affected by winter, partisans, massive Soviet reinforcements, etc.

Special $12.00 Field Marshall

A well balanced hypothetical WW2 conflict where each player's battlefield control is hindered by 32 Situation Cards. With marine, armor, airborne, infantry, artillery and aircraft assets in the 196 counters.

Europe at War Special $12.00

A low complexity grand strategy game where 1 to 4 players direct the economic and military growth of a European power from 1941-45. With 282 counters, technology development, political variants.

Magic: The Gathering

WIZ Magic: the Gathering - Gift Box 4th Edition This deluxe gift box makes it even easier for new players to get involved in the struggle for Dominia. It has two decks of 60 cards, 30 glass stone lifepoints of 2 colors, a flannel bag to hold the stones, and an illustrated rulebook with 64 pages, in two colors, dimensions being 3" x 5", instead of being the size of the cards. WIZ. Magic: 4th Edition Starter Deck

Now in its 4th Edition, Magic: The Gathering is still the hottest game and set of collectable trading cards all around the world. It is published by Wizards of the Coast, and is the first product in the Deckmaster System. To play, two players shuffle and cut each others decks, the top card of the cut becomes that player's Ante. Seven cards are dealt, the remainder form the Library, from which cards are drawn - discards go into the Graveyard. Each player has 20 Life Points, and the winner is the first to reduce his opponent to 0. The looser forfeits the Ante. The Points, and the winner is the first to reduce his opponent to 0. The looser forfeits the Ante. The rationale of the game is that you and your opponent are mighty sorcerers and are fighting a duel in another dimension. In the beginning nothing exists in the dimension, and everything must be drawn into it by a Spell card. Spells are cast using Mana, which comes from land cards. Creatures are also called forth to do battle against the opponent. (Wizards put their prices up 22%)

The Starter Deck comes with a random assortment of 60 cards from a total of over 360. It contains at least 2 rare, 2 uncommon, and several land cards. Each person needs at least 2 decks to play. To buy a sizeable proportion of the set with heaps of land cards, buy a whole display, which sizes use a total of 600 cards (with lot and lots of double up to 600 cards).

Magic: Ice Age - Now Available

W12 Magic: Ice Age - NOW AVAILABLE
Lee Age can be played by itself as a stand-alone game, or used as a standard expansion for Magic the Gathering. The story behind the expansion is that it has been many centuries since the war between Urza and Mishra. The battered landscape has become a frozen desert, and the creatures of the world of Dominaria struggle for survival. One society has risen out of the cold chaos, defending itself against both the brutal forces of nature and the attacks of nonnadic tribes that have emerged in the surrounding wastelands. And through it all, a twisted necromancer flourishes in deep winter, intent on using his powers to keep the world dark and cold. You may have the skills to survive, but can you withstand the icy wilderness of Dominaria's Ice Age? With around 300? new cards. Comes in both Starter Decks and Booster Packs. This is NOT a limited release, though stocks will be available in short supply only.. Ice Age Starter Deck 60 cards + rules $15.95

Middle Earth: The Wizards

Middle Earth: The Wizards (Due Dec)

During the Third Age, the Valar sent five Istari to Middle Earth to unite and counsel the Free Peoples in their struggles against Sauron, the Dark Lord. These Maiar were forbidden to dominate the peoples in Middle Earth, and their names were: Gauron with power. They five Istari were known as Wizards in Middle Earth, and their names were: Gauron with power. They five Istari were known as Wizards in Middle Earth, and their names were: Gaurolaff, Saruman, Radagast, Alatar and Pallando. In this card game, you play one of these five wizards. The goal of each wizard is to marshall the forces of the Free Peoples so that Sauron can be successfully resisted until the One Ring is destroyed. The five wizards don't agree on how to achieve this and so the battle is on. Historically, Gandalf was the only Istari to succeed. Saruman was corrupted by power, Radagast went "native", and Alatar and Pallando disappeared into the East. Only Gandalf remained true to his task: eventually marshalling the characters and forces that withstood Sauron's might long enough for the Fellowship to destroy the One Ring. There are 400 + cards in this Limited Edition 1st printing, and features artwork from dozens of painters, including Angus McBride, Liz Danforth, Mark Poole, etc.

Hyborian Gates Limited Edition Featuring images by well known fantasy artists Boris Vallejo and Julie Bell, and unique computer graphics. (Though predominantly by Vallejo, and including works he's done over the past fifteen or so years). The game is set twelve thousand years ago, when war raged across six Dimensions. Players win by controlling a preset number of Dimensions. The Dimensions are accessed through the Gates. Four or more players can play. Game play is quite entertaining with many things happening at once. There are a large variety of cards, and the combinations of these eards is how players win. Illuminati

Illuminati Starter Double Deck

STE Illuminati Starter Double Deck

The 2nd Printing. Illuminati has been brought out by Steve Jackson, of course, who quickly realised that their game of global conquest and suberfuge was perfectly suited to a trading card game. The Starter Double Deck has two decks of 55 cards and 16 large pages of rules (ie, lots more rules than Spellfire!). There were 409 cards in the Limited Run, so we expect a similar number in the 2nd Printing. To play you need two D6, and 30 Life Point Stones (unless of course you want to use pebbles or seashells.) Illuminati can be played head to head with two players, or in a group with 3 - 6 players. The object of the game is to control the world. You start with a single Illuminati card, representing your own secret conspiracy. During the game, you take over other Group cards. They are added to your power structure as your puppets - unless a foe takes them from you. You win by controlling enough groups, or by fulfilling the special goal of your own Illuminati, or by meeting the objectives on a Goal Card, or by destroying all your opponents. Project A-Ko

COMEDY SF A RPG based on the very popular Japanese anime movies, which is basically a send up of all other cartoons set in the super hero genre. By Janus Publications.

PROJECT A-KO RPG I saw the first A-Ko movie quite a few years ago and I still have fond memories of the experience. A-Ko (or "A" kid in English) is the daughter to America's two most famous superherces, and her days in school are fraught with comedy, weird and wacky school yard romances, and endless conflicts with B-Ko ("B" kid), aliens, robots, and anyone else who wants to join in. This game is a very faithur recreation of the movies. For starters, no character can ever die - they jüts get plastered or whacked or tossed sky high. The game revolves around sending up any or all other mecha-based or anime movies or series. A good laugh. Also includes 36 full color cards for using as combat game either with the RPG or separately.

PAR RISK DELUXE

Without doubt one of the most popular and famous board games, this deluxe version of the game is well worth the investment. Set in the Napoleonic era, 3 - 6 players each begin with the world equally distributed amongst themselves. Players then distribute their battalions upon those world areas they own, placing one or more battalions on each area. One battalion is a plastic infantryman, five are represented by a cavalyrman, and ten are represented by a cannon. Each player is also given a secret mission card. To win, you must achieve the condition set upon the card. For example, your mission may be to eliminate yellow player, or conquer all Africa, or hold any 20 zones at one time. Combat is very simple, merely one dice thrown per battalion you have in combat in that area. With a large, colorful mounted mapboard, mission cards, land cards, 300+ plastic figures.

The game features the most stunning Napoleonic counters I have seen, and features five scenarios: Quatre Bras where Ney tried to sieze the crossroads; Ligny, where the Prussians received a licking from Napoleon; June 16, where as the French you must fight both Ligny and Quatre Bras at the same time; Wavre, where the Prussians must hold out against Grouchy; and June 18, covering the Battle of Mont St-Jean plus the battle of Wavre. Features rules with a historical flavour, 480 counters, 3 double printed maps, etc. $80.00

WAR AND PEACE

AH WAR AND PEACE
In 1804 Napoleon Bonaparte was made Emperor of France by self-coronation, in blatant dis-regard to the sanctity of divine right and noble birth. Incensed by this outrageous affront to the legitimacy of their royalist governments, the European monarchies branded Bonaparte an outlaw and plunged the continent into a decade of war. This epic conflict is recreated in nine moderate-complexy campaign scenarios plus a multiplayer 1805 to 1815 Grand Campaign! Components includes a 44"x16" mapboard (40 miles per hex) and 1040 counters (representing fleets, leaders & armies of infantry, cavalry, militar or elite guards) featuring France, England, Austria, Prussia, Russia & Spain, plus 19 minor allies.

AH GERONIMO
This game actually looks pretty good. As Indian player your troops include the finest light cavalry the world has known: Apache, Sloux, Klowa, Cheyene, Commanche, Blackfoot, Arrapaho, etc. Arrayed against this fierce cast are the technological gains borne of the American Civil War which brought opportunity followed by defeat. Against artillery, gatling guns, the telegraph, and Springle Rifles, the Indians had no defense. Add the effects of Smallpox, Federales, Texas Rangers, tribal wars, and corrupt Indian agents, you begin to understand why Native Americans refer to the forty year period of 1850 to 1890 as the Trail of Tears. Players also change sides throughout the game to experience both the thrill of empire building and the agony of inevitable defeat. Mounted mapboard, 3 counter sheets, over eighty game cards, reference charts, etc.

Powerful Confederate forces are massing on the Union right flank. Includes a 22*x34* map, 240 counters, two rulebooks, player aid cards, etc. $37.00

Contains easy to learn rules and several scenarios that can be played in an hour. DIPLOMACY

AH DIPLOMACY
A classic boardgame of abstract grand strategy, where 2 to 7 imperialistic nations try to carve out niches for themselves in pre-WWI Europe. The game's dice-free mechanics are simplistic in design, allowing players to immerse themselves in the machiavellian politics of empire building. Military successes will still win the day, but only if built upon prudent diplomatic machinations. By that I mean alliances between nations - the staple diet of Diplomacy players, and rife with examples of outrageous collusion, naive trust, brazen intimidation, and so much more. An ideal way to find out who your real friends are, and to test the limits of your guile!

OPERATION MERCURY

IN THE Spring of 1941 the German bilitzkreig crushed the Balkans, and rapidly overran Yugoslavia and Greece. The Allied forces retreated to Crete, and Hitler was pressured to take the island a.s.a.p. so that the Allies could not keep airbases there, as it was May and the invasion of Russia was set for June. So he sent in his crack Paratroop units and a Mountain Division, and though they took Crete, the airborne troops suffered so badly he never used them in a major operation again. WIZ ROBO RALLY Revised Printing

A unique and highly amusing board game designed by Richard Garfield, the designer of Magic the Gathering. The game is set of a distant planet which is an automated factory world that manufacturers widgets. But the robots maintaining the factories are bored, and they accidently discover a way of occupying themselves. One robot suffers a maifunction and scurries through a grid manufacturing centre, where it was spun about by conveyer belts, fried by industrial lasers, until it was finally converted into a widget. Twelve seconds later, the robots held the first "robo-rally", where a number of robots with the intelligence of your average door knob, raced across the deadly, ever changing factory floor. Game play involves giving your robot a sequence of program cards to direct it to the finishing line, but other robots, random laser shots, changing conveyer belts, and bottomless heating shafts all make the race rather unpredictable! Includes 8 pewter robots, 6 mounted, interchangable mapboards, 84 program cards, 26 option carsd, rules & counters.

This is a very cute graphic adventure - and if I had more time, I would be playing it right now. As it is, I only had time for a brief examination. The game is set in the future, where you are snaffed off the street, brain whiped, and then forged into a cyborg, against your will. The game starts with you, the cyborg waking up in your cell with an automated drone telling you what to do to avoid punishment. You can do anything with your character, so I started off walking my character towards the door. But the drone kept zapping me and repeatedly told me to get back on my bed. I worked out how to do combat, but was not getting anywhere until I used my head - literally. I head butted the drone, which crumpled in half, where it continued to drawl out a message - illegibly now. I tried to get past the force field and failed, but then I grabbed the drone and pushed him into the field, and down it went! Then I found myself in the corridor of the moonbase, with the task ahead of me of trying to find out who I was-am. Has variable outcomes. DARK FORCES - STAR WARS

DARK FORCES - STAR WARS
DOOM meets Star Wars! And the result is roaring success. With graphics and world details the equal of Doom, and sound effects that are superior, this game is already extremely popular. You play the part of a mercenary working for the Rebel Alliance, trying to track down the Empire's latest doom weapon - an army of cybernetic doomsday warriors. You have to infiltrate many Imperial bases, crawl through sewers, fight battles with Stormtroopers, automated defense drones, aliens, etc, as you try to stop this latest Imperial strategy. The game is difficult, with more to do than just explore and shoot everything that moves. In one mission you have to find and switch on a generator so that power is restored to automatic doors, before you can achieve the objective. But if you find the game too hard, there are heaps of cheats on the bulletin boards. There are around nine different weapons, including hand grenades, blasters, rocket launchers, etc. Good fun! IBM Requires: 486/33 +, 8 mb RAM, CD-ROM, VGA, hard disk. IBM - $90.00

DOOM2 Hell on Earth

DOOM2 Hell on Earth

Once again idSoftware reveal why it is their games soar to the number one place on the charts. Doom 2 has 32 levels to explore, all brilliantly laid out, complete with traps, hidden rooms and chambers, puzzles, and stunning graphics - with a lot of new scenery. You get to fight in underhalls, waste tunnels, a refueling base, a huge courtyard, a castle, a citadel, chasm, adandoned mines, the Spirit World, and some of my favorites - outdoor levels - downtown, an industrial zone, and suburbs, all with a view of a burning city in the background. There are new beasties to play with - baby spiders, ugly spuds armed with twin rocket launchers, undead dudes with rocket launchers, a big yellow thing which knocks you up through windows! and my favourite, a sergeant with a chaingun, each hit knocks you back a step. From what I could tell, the game does not contain anywhere near as much gross stuff as Doom I. But the game is also much harder - if you don't cheat, some levels are near impossible, level 7 required I save the game every few seconds, with heaps of re-loads. Oh, level 31 will give you a laugh and bring back a lot of memories. IBM requires 386/33 or faster, hard disk, 3.5° FDD or CD-ROM, VGA, 4mb RAM. IBM - $60.00

EARTHISTICE

EARTHSIEGE

Earthsiege is a game of mech combat, huge bipedal warmachines slugging it out with each other. I've watched a friend playing the game, and I was spellbound. The battlefield was a red colored, cracked-earth volcanic landscape. My friend powered up his mech and sent it forward, the scene shaking with each footstep taken by the behemoth. The cockpit graphics are great, with several views, and enemy mechs look great too. And unlike Ultrabots, this game actually uses tactics. You can target different parts of the enemy mechs, such as heads, legs, arms, and when you hit them, you see debris and armor flying off behind them. Includes over 45 missions across 8 campaigns. And randomly generated enemy tactics and battle conditions guarantee each replay is a different experience. Includes aerospace vehicles as well as suicidal killer mechanical spiders. The CD version includes digitized speech. IBM requires: 386DX33+.

ACT
About two years ago Activision recalled their almost completed game in embarrassment, and since then they have completely redesigned the entire game. And to my utter amazement, it is one of the most stunning games I have encountered. The opening cinnematic sequence of Wolf Clan mechs engaged head to head with Jade Falcon mechs is both breathtaking and has a music score without equal. Game play is just as good - the same musical score, and the ability to use one of 15 different Clan omit o second line mechs. You can make custom pods with your own weapon choices for any omnimech. You can fight trial of grievances, practise as a cadet, or join full scale campaigns of taking on the opposing Clan. The game is set in 3057 and focuses on the epic war between the Wolf and Jade Falcon Clans. Graphics are truly amazing, and you can fight in many types of landscapes. TIE FIGHTER

Its out, and we've been able to obtain supply of the game. And even more surprising, Lucasfilm actually learnt from the major mistakes they made with X-Wing. The Fighter is a superb, easy to play conflict simulator, where you play the part of an Imperial pilot, fighting the Rebel Alliance, Pirates, and even other alien races. Unlike before, you can set your Tie fighter to invincible, and the mission still counts. The training course at the beginning of the game is easy compared to X-Wing, and the joystick gives a smooth, easy ride, without you having to re-calibrate the thing every five seconds like in X-Wing. The mouse also provides easy control. Dogfighting is heaps of fun, and there are new commands, the best one being one keystroke to make your Tie fighter match the speed of your target. You get tolly a host of Imperial craft - Tie Fighters, Tie Bombers, Tie Interceptors, Gunboats, Tie Advanced with shields, and Tie Starfighter. There are secret missions and objectives, great cinematic connecting scenes, improved graphics on all ships, great soundtrack and sound effects. You won't be disappointed. WING COMMANDER III Heart of the Tiger

Wing Commander III comes with four CD-ROM disks - thats over 2000 meg of game play and cinematics and digitised sound. Origin have outdone themselves - and every other company. I have seen nothing to compare with this game. You have the option of running the game through SVGA rather than VGA, and I recommend you do so. Cinematic sequences link many of the missions together, including actors such as Mark Hamili. In between flights you can also talk to selected members of the crew, and you can choose how you respond to them. You can choose different fighters and their missile loads. Your cockpit is stunning, and SVGA targets look magnificent too. And for a change, your wingmen are no longer retards who can hit a moving target. Some of the wingmen, such as Hobbes, manage to nail five targets by the time I've taken out two or three. The storyline in the game depends heavily on how well you do each mission. So if you fail important missions early on, you find yourself in inferior fighters and on the defensive. However, the storyline even when you are succeeding becomes rather tough and moving by the third CD. There are fifty intense missions, an excellent musical score, five types of fighters, and you play directly off the CD, as well as some hard disk installation. And once again you can fly with the mouse, rather than having to use a joystick. IBM Requires: CD-ROM, 8mb RAM (though more is recommended), SVGA, 486DX50 +, mouse, hard disk.

CAMPAIGN CARTOGRAPHER

Cowabungal Just what I've always wanted - a computer based package for drawing maps, including all of those quirky little symbols that make RPG maps so visually exciting (like trees, mountains, towns, roads, rivers, battlemaps, coastlines, etc). Comes with a large, thick 240 page manual. Tutorials run you through the basics of drawing your map and placing various items. (I was having so much fun placing little ships that I actually laughed out loud at one stage!) First you decide the scale of the map, then draw coastlines. You then fill your land masses with mountain ranges, forests, jungles, deserts, swamps, cities, towns, villages, battle sites, evil temples, etc. Each of these features can also be shown in appropriate color, on screen, or when printed. By using a CAD feature referred to as levels, you can make several maps from one original, each showing different levels of detail. The one with lowest detail, ie, mountains, forests etc, is the first one you give to player characters when they start a new campaign. IBM Requires: hard disk, 3.5" FDD, VGA, mouse, 486+.

WARCRAFT Orcs Verses Humans
I would rate this as perhaps the best fantasy wargame available on computer. You can play either orcs or humans, and lead them in a series of campaigns as you seek to conquer your world. You construct and rule your own medieval towns and defenses, you can play two player via modem or network, there are 24 campaign scenarios within two story lines, one as orcs, one as humans. There are another 20 scenarios that can be customised for unlimited game play; you command many unique creatures and troop types, including elementals, archers, catapults, spearmen, knights, wizards, clerics, wolf riders, etc. You need to explore, develop an economic base to fund your war effort, and your armies need a balance or troops which must support each other to succeed. Your troops also talk to you when you click on them with the mouse. My favorite is when you repeatedly click on the same orc - he gets rather irrate with you! The orcs are the big green dudes brought to us by Games Workshop. IBM Requires: VGA, CD-ROM or 3.5° FDD. hard disk, 4 mb RAM, Mouse.

WARLORDS

to 8 players can participate in this large strategic fantasy campaign. Set in the medieval-fantasy world of 1 to 8 players can participate in this large strategic fantasy campaign. Set in the medieval-fantasy world of Illuria, a fragile peace treaty has expired and after quickly dispensing with any pretence towards peaceful negotiations, all eight nations declare war on each other in a race to gain supreme power. Mechanics are simple, and include diplomatic ventures, economic restraints, production of military units and strongholds, and exploring for magical talismans or allies, such as dragons, ghosts, wizards, etc. There 80 cities to conquer, 10 terrain types, 16 troop types and races, and terrain-racial combat modifiers. "Treat your defeated foes with the contempt they deserve - and off with their heads!" says the blurg on the box, which well sums up the friendly atmosphere. (We have been asked by customers to warn you - it is extremely addictive!) Note: the IBM version is an improved version.

WARLORDS II

WARLORDS II

The long awaited sequel to Warlords is here - and it is greatly improved. It is for 1 - 8 players, any of which can be computer controlled. Computer intelligence is good, with levels being knight, lord, or warlord. An amusing option when playing against computer opponents is I am the greatest, which makes them all attack you all-out from the first turn. One of the greatest attractions of this new version is random maps - an unlimited number of them. You can even choose the percentages of woods, hills, water, etc. One brilliant quick-start option allocates all of the cities to the eight players, so you do not need to rush about exploring and gathering an industrial base - just produce armies and start kicking butt straight away! There are heaps of new unit types, such as giant spiders, scouts, wolf riders, pikemen, elephants, etc. Cities that can only produce one or two troop types, can invest gold in buying the ability to produce other troop types of your choice. Heroes can still romp around the map looking for talismans and allies (and unwittingly trip over monsters who are trying to stop them!)

Another great attaction of this game is that it contains diplomacy - even against the computer players. You can be in one of three diplomatic states with all of your opponents: allied, where you should not attack his units or cities; neutral, you can attack his units but should not attack his cities; and hostile, where you can attack freely cities or armies. In the diplomatic action screen you can change the way you wish to deal with another player, and it is in your advantage to declare war on someone first and attack him second. If you backstab him, all the computer players will lower their ratings of you & if you are rated the lowest, they will all declare war on you. WRG D.B.M. Version 1.1

DE BELLIS MULTITUDINIS Mass Ancient & Medieval Combat

D.B.M. has at last been updated to include all of the ammendments that had previously been released on 3 pages. Many parts of the text have been re-worded where the text was a little

For 25mm, 15mm, 6mm or 2mm Ancient and Medieval miniatures wargaming, this is the most popular set of Ancient wargaming rules available. All troop types are classified according to how they actually fought, not according to what weapons and armor they had. Players field troops including Knights - including all cavalry who tended to charge and ride down their enemy; Cavalry, who tended Anignis - including all cavalry who tended to charge and ride down their enemy. Cavalry, who tended to shower the enemy with javelin or bow, with controlled charges; Light Horse, including all mounted troops who skirmish in dispersed swarms and then evade the enemy when charged; Spears - all close formation infantry fighting with spears behind a shield wall; Blades - including infantry trained in fencing skills with swords or heavier weapons, sometimes supplemented by throwing weapons; Warband - all barbarians foot who relied on wild, impetuous charges; Auxillia - foot able to fight hand to hand or skirmish, also proficient in difficult terrain; Psiloi - all open order skirmishers who fight on foot, normally running away when charged, etc.

Combat is very quick and simple, with two pages of rules covering all aspects of combat. All troops are based in elements, in 15mm, 2, 3 or 4 figures are based on 4cm wide bases, from 1.5cm to 4cm deep. Combat occurs between two elements, each throwing 106 and adding the roll to his combat factor against the enemy troop type. Normally, if you exceed your opponent's score, his element is pushed back. But some troop types are destroyed when pushed back by others, such as knights destroying spears they push back. And when you double your opponent's score, his element is usually destroyed, but again, there are many exceptions.

Each general (usually 2 to 3) has his own command, and throws 1D6. This is the number of actions he can perform. Generally, an element or group (elements in base to base contact) will cost one pip to move if regular, or two if irregular. Light troops are always 1 pip.

DBM ARMY LISTS Book # 1 3000 BC - 500 BC

A 54 page book of army lists written especially for DBM. The average size of armies used with DBM is between 300 - 500 points. I recommend 200 points for 25mm, which is around 30 elements or around 90 figures; or 375 points for 15mm, which is around 60 elements or 180 figures. This book includes notes on each army, rules for using allies, climate, aggression, and terrain types for each army, etc. Armies included are: Egyptian, Syrian, Assyrian, Babylonian, Mycenaean, Trojan War, Early Hoplite Greek, Thracian, Early Macedonian, Roman & Etruscan, Early Achaemenid Persian, Early Carthaginian, etc.

DBM ARMY LISTS # 2 500 BC - 476 AD

WRG DBM ARMY LISTS # 2 500 BC - 476 AD
A 76 page book of army lists, including some of the Ancient period's greats. Later Hoplite Greek, Alexandrian Macedonian, the Successors, Carnillan, Marian, Early, Middle, Late, & Patrician Roman, Hunnic, Alans, Gallic, Hsiung-nu, Armenian, Ancient British, Sassanid Persian, Early German, Visigoth, Vandal, Pictish, Saxon, and my favorite - the Parthians. The first seven games I played of DBM were of Parthians fighting Marian Romans, and I immediately fell in love with the Parthians. The cataphracts are rated as being Knights(X),ie, exceptional. This means that they are classed as superior against spears, pikes, horse, & bowmen, but inferior against blades, knights, or warband, ordinary in all other cases. And moving 150 paces, they are basically fast super heavy infantry, and against legionaries in two ranks, they make for an even battle. But the horse archers! Zipping all over the place and totally invulnerable against any enemy foot.

DBM ARMY LISTS #3 476 AD - 1071 AD

A 76 page book with army lists for the Early Medieval Period. Armies of interest include Early Lombards, from Early to Konstantinian Byzantine, Pre-Samurai Japanese, Welsh from 580 AD 1420 AD, Middle Anglo-Saxon, Feudal Spanish, Norse Viking, Tribal Mongolian, Pre-Feudal Scots, Rus, Khitan Liao, Korean, Toltec, Early Polish, Early Hungarian, Georgian, Seljuq Turk, Anglo-Danish (including King Harold Godwinson's army that fought at Hastings), Norman, etc.

DBM ARMY LISTS # 4: 1071 AD - 1500 AD

The High Medieval Period, and one of the most popular periods in history - it is certainly one of my The High Medieval Period, and one of the first popular periods in history in its certainty of the High avorities 80 pages, including later Byzantines, Anglo-Norman, Early and Later Crusader, Scots Common Army, Feudal English - with masses of archers and average quality knights, Feudal French - with superior knights but a whole ragtag bunch of infantry, 100 Years War English, Catalan Company, Medieval French, Later Polish, Later Swiss, Hussite - with those amazing war wagons, Inca, French Ordonnance, Wars of the Roses, Burgundian Ordonnance, etc.

WRG DE BELLIS ANTIQUITATIS Fast Play Ancients Rules 1.1
This is the new 1.1 version of DBA, which has now been updated to be more like DBM. These are WRG's fast play ancient & historical miniatures rules. Game mechanics are a simplified version of DBM, using the same basic concepts. One major difference is that all armies consist of 12 elements of bases of figures, which means that no army can have over 50 figures. There are no point values. It is a 20 page book containing simple yet effective mechanics that cover troop definitions, terrain, camps, close combat, missile fire, artillery, etc. Includes a suggested six nation campaign, historical army lists, all of which require only a small number of figures. Very suitable for 25mm, 15mm, or 1/300th scale games.

HORDES OF THE THINGS

WRG HORDES OF THE THINGS
A 40 page book of fast play fantasy miniatures rules, using a system very similar to DBA. All armies consist of 24 points, and can include the troop types aerial hero, god, dragon, paladin, behemoth, magicians, heroes, airboats, artillery, sneakers, clerics, flyers, knights, riders, beasts, blades, spears, shooters, warbands, hordes, and lurkers. Large battles can be played, simply by adding further generals, each of which commands 24 points. The average 24 point army will include 24-36 figures. Combat is very similar to DBA and DBM, and so the game is extremely fast moving and easy to learn. Hordes are done in a novel way, if one is eliminated, the next turn you can replace it by spending one command pip, and it arrives in your stronghold or back board edge. $16.00

CLASH OF ARMOR

WW2

CLASH OF ARMOR COA

Uses a unique Activation System based on Command Quality and a scale of 1 unit equalling 1 platoon, this game allows the gamer to simulate combat using historical troop ratios. Multidivisional battles can be played on a 4'x8' playing surface, and play completed within six hours. Clash of Armor governs time differently from most other miniatures rules. A unit activation system allows units to perform activities according to the logic of a player's strategy. The game allows players to push their units to greater levels of activity, but at the cost of greater fatigue and disorganisation. Enemy units can also respond to these actions, but also at the cost of fatigue etc. The system is quite good, and favours German units flexibility over that of Russians, for example. 64 pages, ar includes unit organisations, vehicle, gun and troop charts with stats, etc. $35.00 stats, etc.

FULL THRUST

SCI-FI

FULL THRUST 2nd Ed

A beautiful production of tactical starship combat rules, on glossy paper filled with B&W photos of model spaceships and diagrams. The basic rules on their own will give a very simple, fast game with absolutely no complications, even when using big fleets. Once you are familiar with the basics, various parts or all of the Advanced rules can be added. No ships can fire into their aft quadrant (except against fighters) due to the distortion field caused by the ship's englines. This has a profound effect on tactics and manoeuvring. There is great satisfaction to be had by getting up behind a Dreadnought with your cruiser and letting it have all batteries straight up the Drive Tubes, and the "#@# can't shoot back! This ruling makes players think much harder about the relative position of their ships, requiring the use of escorts to cover these blind spots of the bigger ships. At the beginning of each turn players write down their movement for that turn, and both players then carry out the plotted movement - so you really need to try to outguess your opponent. Also includes complete ship construction and costings rules, background detail & expanded ship stats. $25.00

The first supplement for Full Thrust. A compendium of additional rules, scenarios and other material. Includes new fleet details, including the alien Kravak race, expanded ship statistics and new classes, additional weapons and other systems, scenario outlines and extended time line, etc. One of the new optional rules is the ability to cloak your ships. The amusing thing is that your ship is also blind when cloaked, so you must plot its moves without the miniature on the table - if you muck up your guessed movement orders, it could end up in the next room!

ho also brought us Tactica. This is a complete set of rules that simulate division By Arty Conliffe, who also brought us Tactica. This is a complete set of rules that simulate division-level tactics of WW2. The emphasis is on commanding a multi-battalion force, and all game mechanics serve that priority. Each model or stand of infantry represents a platoon. National differences are reflected. The key reasons for the German tactical superiority lay in their fighting system and training, not inbetter equipment. In Spear Head, the German player controls a flexbile system which can adapt more easily to the ever changing battlefield. Conversely, a Russian player employs a less flexible command structure. There are four types of orders, and these bind battalions to specific actions on the table and limit the advantages of a players helicopter view. In this game, players must plan their battle carefully, because they cannot change bad plans quickly. The Space Marines have been seriously upgraded in performance. Their toughness has been raised, they can use double botter fire if they did not move, they can ignore they first break test failure, & they have an improved saving throw for their armor. There are now a limited number of moves inwhich to achieve your objective. Vehicles have been streamlined, with the targeting template removed. Special equipment is treated like magic in Warhammer Fantasy, with each having it's own card. This game includes a free 40K Codex book of temporary army lists, to be used until the new army list books come out.

CODEX ULTRAMARINES

The Ultramarines are the greatest of all Space Marine Chapters, and they have some pretty amazing and powerful stuff outlined in this Codex. For example, Marneus Calgar, the Master of the Ultramarines, has a Strategy Rating of 6I as wells as Terminator Gauntlets with twin bolters; Chaplain Cassius makes his squad immune to fear of Tyranids, Captain Invictus has a plasma blaster and can have a Terminator or Veteran squad as a bodyguard, each member of which can have a wargear card; rules are included so that you can field the feared Legion of the Dead, who never have to take a leadership test; there are a whole host of deadly vehicles, and great variants for support weapons, etc. With history, painting guides, organisation, and more.

CODEX TYRANIDS

At last the Tyranid Codex is here, and it was worth the wait. The Tyranids are now even more a force to be reckoned with. New beastles include Gargoyles, which are flying Termageants armed with flamers; Hormagants, which are tough Termageants armed with 4 scythe like claw arms; the Lictor, a Tyranid sized assassin which cannot be spotted when hiding; Zoanthrope, a special psycher monster; spore mines & their living launcher. There are a heap of new weapons, including the venom cannon, barbed strangler, devourer, spinefist, etc; and lots of living bio wargear, including regenerate wounds, voltage field, adrenalin sac, sharpened claws, etc. $30.00

DARK MILLENIUM

At last - the boxed supplement that every 40K player needs to complete the game. Has 60 Psychic cards, 24 Vehicle Datafax cards, 8 Psychic Power templates, 10 Vehicle cards which provide extra equipment such as super charged engines and add-on missiles, 55 Wargear cards to add to those in the 40K boxed set, 18 Strategy cards, 4 new mission cards (2 new missions), a deck of 36 Warp cards, assorted counters, and of course, the rulebook! And the new psychic rules are heaps better than those in the 40K boxed set. If anything, they now have less impact. Players draw a number of psychic cards in proportion to how many psychers are in the game. eg. if there are 3 psychers, you throw 306, and get that many cards evenly distributed between you. These cards include power cards and nullify cards, as well as some special ones. You use these to activate your psychic powers.

Armory Acrylic Metallics

Four years ago I was given a set of the Armory Metallics Paint sets, and I have used the paints ever since that time - I have never found any other metallics to even begin to compare with them. So here they are, available

ARMGG-082 METALLICS ACRYLIC PAINT SET (8)$36.00
Each glass jar contains 1 fl.oz., making them much larger than Citadel or Ral Partha, but I recommend you store the jars upside down, to get the thick goo on the lids, which you then use as a palette. The colors are: Gold (use as bronze), Brass (use as gold), Bronze (very dark, so use as shading), Silver, Copper, Gunmetal, Chainmail, Platinum.
